Article About the Incident in which Meredith Mills was Killed

“U.S. Airmen, Beaten, Shot by Civilians,” Philadelphia Inquirer, September 8, 1945.

Transcription:

“The story of how eight American fliers were slain last year by Nazi civilians—one of whom admitted beating a dying airman with a monkey wrench—was disclosed today in copies of French War Crimes Commission files handed over to American authorities. Seven Germans are under arrest for the crimes.

Captain Dimitri Veliachef of the French army’s war criminals investigation branch showed copies of documents stating the killings occurred at Schollach, north of Neustadt, on July 21, 1944, and at Weisenbach, near Gernsbach, on Aug. 9, 1944. Both places are in the French occupation zone in Germany.”

(The article then discusses the Weisenbach incident before delving into what happened at Schollach.)

“At Schollach, the defendants statements said, five airmen parachuted safely from a crashing bomber. Two of them were taken to the town hall, where they were ordered shot by the Nazi kreisleiter of Neustadt, who later committed suicide. One of the fliers received several bullets in the head before he fell dead.

The three others landed near Urach village and were apprehended by the gendarmerie. They were being brought to Schollach by three guards who intended to turn them over to the German army when three armed civilians, including the kreisleiter’s son, arrived and ordered the guards away. The civilians immediately shot two of the prisoners in the back and brought down the third as he tried to run.

A German police report listed the names of the two men shot at the town hall as Bernhardt E. Radowski and M. N. Milles. The other three were listed as Leonhardt A. Kornblau, Charles Wolf and Franz Misiak.

European theater casualty files list a bomber crew missing in action on July 21, 1944, including Second Lieutenant Bernard E. Radomski, co-pilot, asn 0-818745; Sergeant Meredith M. Mills, Jr., ball turret gunner, asn 14084313; Lieutenant Leonard A. Kornblau, pilot, asn 0-813721; Second Lieutenant Charles E. Woolf, navigator, asn 0-710359, and Sergeant Frank L. Misiak, tail gunner, asn 36365096.”

MILLS, MERIDITH M. S/Sgt. ASN unknown.

2. Crew Position and Unit:

Ball turret gunner. 365th Sq., 305th Gp., 8th Air Force.

3. Date and Place Last Seen:

21 July 1944. Bailing out of B-17, SE of Frieberg, Germany.

4. Eyewitness Information re Circumstances of Loss of Aircraft:

(Additional space, see 4 on reverse)

On 21 July 1944, we were on a bombing mission to Germany from England. We were approximately 6 miles from the Swiss border, South East of Frieberg, Germany, when our B-17 aircraft sustained three direct flak hits, which necessitated the pilot giving the bail out order. None of the crew was injured from the aircraft hits. We all bailed out. I saw MILLS descending with open parachute. He was drifting to the valley. That was the last I saw of him. Three of the crew and I landed in the hills and were captured by the Germans.

5. Hearsay Information (& reliability) re Circumstances of Loss of Aircraft:

(Additional space, see 5 on reverse)

Just a few weeks ago, I read in a newspaper clipping and WD release, sent me by a friend, that MILLS had been captured and later shot by the Germans, and that they were now hunting for the Germans who shot him to stand trial under War Crimes.

MEREDITH M. "SPARKY" MILLS JR.

Staff Sergeant, 14 084 813, U.S. Army Air Corps
Ball turret gunner, 365th Bomb Squadron, 305th Bomb Group (Heavy)
Killed in action, 21 July 1944 at Schollach-Neustadt, Baden
Germany.

Meredith Mills was born 21 April 1923. He was raised in St. Augustine, Florida, completed high School and attended college in Gainesville, Florida. His home was with his aunt, H.W. Wait of that city when he entered military service in October 1942. He went overseas in May 1944. At the time of his death his next of kin included;

The 305th Bomb Group, flying B-17 aircraft, had been operational from bases in England since late 1942. From May to July 1944, they were involved in a wide variety of missions including preparation for the Normandy landings and attacks against industrial targets in Germany. On the 21st of July, nearly one thousand American heavy bombers were dispatched to strike important industrial targets in several locations throughout Germany. The 305th bombed targets near Munich. Sergeant Mills's aircraft was seen to receive a direct hit from an anti-aircraft shell and fall out of control. After the war, it was determined Mills and most of the crew safely parachuted to ground some six miles from the Swiss border. Mills and four other crewmen were captured by a force of German home guards and civilians and murdered by them.

“The body of Lt. Leonard Kornblau, killed by Nazi civilians after he had safely parachuted from his plane over Schollach, Germany, will arrive at the Lehigh Valley station tomorrow afternoon at 12:35.

The coffin will be taken to Hanover Green Jewish cemetery where services will be conducted by Rabbi I. M. Davidson, assisted by Cantor Joseph Gast. Members of Irving R. Rutstein Post, Jewish War Veterans, will meet the body and conduct military rites at the cemetery. Commander Arthur H. Bloom will be in charge.

The son of Mr. and Mrs. Maurice A. Kornblau of 511 South Franklin street, Lt. Kornblau was the pilot of a Flying fortress shot down over Schollach on July 21, 1944. He and four members of his crew parachuted safely to the ground after their plane had been hit. Two of the crew were taken prisoners and immediately ordered shot by the Nazi mayor of Schollach, who later committed suicide.

Lt. Kornblau and the other two members of the crew were taken prisoners near the village of Urach by German police. While being taken to Schollach by the three guards to be turned over to the Army, German civilians took the prisoners from the guards and shot them.

Born in Wilkes-Barre, Lt. Kornblau graduated from Coughlin High School in 1938 and later attended Duke University. Prior to entering service in June of 1942, he was employed by the Westinghouse Electric Company at Philadelphia. He went overseas on May 18, 1944, and served as squadron leader of a B-17 group. He was on his 35th mission when shot down. Among his awards were the Air Medal with two Oak Leaf Clusters.

In addition to his parents he is survived by two brothers, Norman and Robert Kornblau, both of Wilkes-Barre.”

Frank Misiak in Raid Over Frankfurt

“Cicero Gunner on ‘Fort’ In Thrilling Air Battle,” Berwyn Life (IL), October 8, 1943.

<https://www.newspapers.com/image/524188332/?match=1&terms=frank%20%20misiak>

Transcription:

“Sgt. Frank Misiak, son of Mrs. Mary Misiak, 2246 S. Cicero ave., was tail gunner on the famous flying fortress “Mister Five-by-Five,” which figured in a thrilling air battle with German fighter planes in a heavy raid over Frankfurt on Monday, according to a dispatch from an American flying field in England.

The recent surprising gap in the number of German fighters rising to meet American bombers, the dispatch said, was more than made up in Monday’s raid by the enemy’s use of rockets which lobbed against the fortresses like a softball pitcher’s delivery.

The German fighters waited until the Thunderbolts escorting the bombers turned back at the halfway mark. Then they moved in. Members of the “Mister Five-by-Five” crew saw as many as 50 German fighters at one time.

Sgt. Misiak’s ship was attacked three times on the nose, the dispatch said, and an ME-109 was attacking the fortress when a Thunderbolt pounced on it and sent it down in a mass of flames.

Sgt. Misiak, who will be 35 next March 18, was inducted into the service by Cicero board No. 1 on August 19, 1942. After preliminary training, he was graduated from the aerial gunnery school of the Army Air Forces at Las Vegas, N. M. Since he has been stationed in England, he has participated in many bombing attacks on German cities and industrial targets.

Shortly before a LIFE reporter called to show Mrs. Misiak the dispatch from England, she said she had the scare of her life when a telegraph messenger arrived. Fearing the worst, she opened the envelope with trembling hands and found it was not a message from the War Department, but a cablegram from Frank, himself. He informed her that he had “completed his mission” and asked her not to write any more until she heard from him.

Mrs. Misiak took the message to mean that her son had made 25 flights over Germany and occupied countries and is eligible for a furlough. So she’s listening for the doorbell to ring any day now and find Frank has come home for a visit.

Sgt. Misiak attended Morton high school. He has two sisters, Irene, a war worker, who lives at home, and Mrs. Helen Mares. His father is dead.”

Frank Misiak Reported Missing

“Report AAF Tail Gunner Missing: Misiak Returns to Combat Duty; Is Lost,” Berwyn Life (IL), August 11, 1944.

<https://www.newspapers.com/image/524108110/?match=1&terms=frank%20%20misiak>

Transcription:

“When S/Sgt. Frank L. Misiak, 35, son of Mrs. Mary Misiak, 2246 Cicero ave., returned home last November after completing 25 missions over Germany and enemy-occupied countries as a tail gunner on a Flying Fortress, he said he didn’t want to remain here in the United States as an instructor.

True to his word, after serving three months as an instructor in Florida he volunteered to return to combat. He did, and this week his mother received notification from the war department that S/Sgt. Misiak has been reported missing in action over Germany since July 21.

Misiak is the wearer of the Air Medal with three Oak Leaf Clusters, and has also been awarded the Distinguished Flying Cross. The veteran gunner is credited with destroying one German air craft. Among the raids he participated in over enemy Europe was the famous Stuttgart raid.”
